Welcome to GIANT STEPS 2019

Our program is packed. Our speakers are prepped. The yoga mats are being rolled out. And the support dogs can't wait to meet you.

At GIANT STEPS we have created something special for you. Yes, we are meeting the need for Victoria's own healthcare quality and safety conference – but we've done so much more. We have handcrafted a unique, incredible experience – one that will give you valuable insights and lessons to take away, in a comfortable and relaxing environment to help you learn and network.

Thank you for coming and paying

We run more than 100 free events for clinicians, leaders and consumers every year, so we were blown away when this paid event sold out so quickly. We hope we are returning your investment in us – both in time and money.

Will we be back?

That's up to you! Make sure you rate each session through the event app, respond to our post-event survey, or just email us at events@safercare.vic.gov.au. Enjoy!

Turia Pitt, Athlete, author, humanitarian and motivational speaker

Keynote speakers

Turia Pitt

Athlete, author, humanitarian and motivational speaker

Turia Pitt is living proof that, with the right mindset, anything is possible. Caught in a grassfire while competing in a 100km ultramarathon in 2011, Turia suffered full thickness burns to 65 per cent of her body. But surviving is the least of her achievements. One of Australia's most admired and widely recognised people, Turia has gone on to become a bestselling author, two-time ironman champion and humanitarian - raising well over $1 million for not-for-profit Interplast. Through her online presence, books and online programs, Turia has inspired millions to live with more confidence, drop their fears and smash epic goals.

Dr Bronwyn King

Founder, CEO and Director Tobacco Free Portfolios

Bronwyn started her medical career working on the lung cancer unit at the Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre in Melbourne. The devastating impact of tobacco on her patients left a deep impression. Years later, after becoming a specialist radiation oncologist, Bronwyn discovered her unwitting investment in tobacco companies through her pension fund and she felt obliged to try to bridge the gap between the health and finance sectors. She then founded Tobacco Free Portfolios and her collaborative work with the finance sector has been instrumental in driving the tobacco-free finance agenda across the globe.

Christine Nixon

Former Chief Commissioner Victoria Police

Christine Nixon, former Chief Commissioner of Victoria Police, was appointed in February 2009 to chair the Victorian Bushfire Reconstruction and Recovery Authority and tasked with the oversight and coordination of the largest recovery and rebuilding program Victoria has ever faced. From 2010 to 2011, Christine was the Victorian Government's Advisor on Bushfire Reconstruction and Recovery, a voluntary role. She remains a member of the Victorian Bushfire Appeal Fund panel. Christine was the 19th Chief Commissioner of Victoria Police, the first woman to become a police commissioner in Australia. She led 14,000 staff, operating across more than 500 locations and oversaw an annual budget of $1.7 billion. She was a police officer for more than 30 years. Prior to becoming Chief Commissioner of Victoria Police, she had an extensive career in the New South Wales Police Force, attaining the rank of Assistant Commissioner, leading the Human Resource Command and three operation regions.

Lyn Swinburne AO

Chair, The Royal Women's Hospital
Founder, Breast Cancer Network Australia

Lyn Swinburne AO is a prominent women's advocate and spokesperson on behalf of Australians personally affected by cancer. Following her own diagnosis of breast cancer in 1993, Lyn founded Breast Cancer Network Australia – the Pink Ladies, arguably the nation's most influential consumer-based cancer organisation, which boasts more than 130,000 members. Her contribution to the Australian community has been recognised with many awards, including as Melbourne of the Year in 2007 and a finalist in the Australian of the Year (2006). In 2016, she was named as one of The Financial Review's Australian 100 Women of Influence, winning the national Social Enterprise and Not-for-Profit category. She now holds a range of non-Executive Director positions including as Board Chair at the Royal Women's Hospital in Melbourne.

Professor Euan Wallace AM

CEO, Safer Care Victoria

Euan Wallace AM is an academic obstetrician and gynaecologist by training. He left a senior leadership role at Monash Health to join Safer Care Victoria. He has more than a decade of experience in healthcare governance and clinical improvement. Euan is also the Carl Wood Professor and Head of Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Monash University where he leads a perinatal medicine research group. His research interests are in fetal development, maternal health, stem cell biology and patient safety. NHS Horizons

Helen Bevan has been supporting quality improvement within the health and care system for nearly 30 years. She has led and facilitated many nationwide initiatives to improve care, including in cancer services, urgent and emergency care, services for people living with dementia and care in the community. Helen has demonstrated a constancy of purpose and resilience to stay within the system over the years that is rare in internal change agents. She has managed to keep learning, growing and delivering change. Over time, her focus has shifted from managing big programs of change to approaches that mobilise and build energy and commitment to change on a very large scale. Helen has an ability to connect directly with thousands of frontline staff and patient leaders. She is the number one social influencer in the NHS, and one of the top influencers globally, reaching more than a million people each month through her social media connections, virtual presentations, commentaries and blogs.

Jennifer Rodgers

Chief Nurse, Hospital Paediatrics and Neonatology, Women and Children's Directorate
