

Stillbirth form

A stillbirth is the birth of an infant of at least 20 weeks gestation, or if gestation is unknown weighing at least 400g, who shows no signs of life after birth.

This template should be completed and documents (clinical and investigation results) attached within 28 days of death or as specified by CCOPMM. These reports should be completed automatically, without a request from CCOPMM.

CCOPMM strongly recommends familiarity with the Clinical Practice Guideline for Care Around Stillbirth and Neonatal Death March 2018 (Perinatal Society of Australia and New Zealand) <https://sanda.psanz.com.au/assets/Uploads/Section-5-Stillbirth-Investigations-V3-100420.pdf> (<https://sanda.psanz.com.au/assets/Uploads/Section-5-Stillbirth-Investigations-V3-100420.pdf>).
